

Renewal of Vows Script

On this happy day, you are renewing your covenant of love, loyalty and friendship to each other. Even as you were blessed by bringing your separate lives together, you are blessed in this renewal of your vows.

In the presence of Spirit, you have walked together through whatever challenges you may have encountered; today, you are performing an act of faith and love once again, believing in each other to the utmost and reaffirming your individual and collective commitment.

PLEASE JOIN RIGHT HANDS AND REPEAT AFTER ME...

In the presence of Spirit,(family and friends,) I now re-choose you to live my life with. And in re-choosing, I renew my vows of love, loyalty and friendship. I rededicate and re-consecrate my commitment to you by planting this relationship firmly in solid ground. And so it is.
